

HANS-KILIAN-VORLESUNG

Mittwoch, 04.12.2019 | Hans-Kilian-Vorlesung
16:00 c.t.-17.45 Uhr | Ruhr-Universität Bochum, GD 1/156

Prof. Dr. DAN ZAHAVI

(University of Copenhagen/University of Oxford)

Shared emotions and extended minds:
How to combine insights from social ontology and philosophy of mind

In his talk Dan Zahavi will explore whether insights from the discussion of collective intentionality can qualify the extended mind thesis. He will discuss and criticize some recent analyses of shared emotions by Margaret Gilbert and Joel Krueger and proposes that shared emotions are prime examples of socially extended emotions.